The Indies of Boston.
Chinese Hookworm.
Free Speech—Good Joke.
Good-By, Ten Millions.

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

Why do Boston women, young and old, trot along the sidewalks with such peaceful expressions, while women in New York, Chicago and other cities look as though they had just heard the ladybug's message, "Fly away home, your house is on fire, your children will burn?"

John Bogart, publisher of the Boston American, explains with "Boston is civilized, and civilization means peace." That answer is not enough. You may see peaceful faces on the streets, but when Englishmen rule the world, that is not civilization.

The Rockefeller Foundation successfully fights disease all over the world, and especially in China. Since the people here have not means enough to do such things for themselves, it is well that Mr. Rockefeller is able to make a hundred millions or so a year, and do the work for them.

Just now Rockefeller scientists are fighting hookworm in the Pinghsiang hills of China, where men die rapidly.

Thus far the high birth rate of China has been offset by the dreadful death rate and to some extent by crowning girl babies.

What would be the effect on the world if Rockefeller science and American industrial methods made it possible to cut down the death rate and raise and employ the Chinese girl babies? What would the world do with a thousand millions and then two thousand millions more Chinese? Would they be crowded out? Or would they have to substitute dedication for reservation?

Mrs. Elizabeth G. Evans of Brookline, Mass., was arrested at Bridgeport, Conn., and the Rev. John Haynes Holmes at Mount Vernon, N. Y., for addressing open air Socialist meetings. If they had addressed Democratic, Republican, labor union, Christian Science, Red Cross, Salvation Army, Protestant or Catholic meetings, they would not have been arrested. What is the exact meaning of the constitutional provision concerning freedom of speech?

And, more important question, what do men usually do to make an impression when free speech is forbidden them? Why sit on the safety valve?

Federal Reserve gentlemen should heed warnings from the farmers. To "ceasefire" as the Reserve Bank puts it, is one thing. To encourage usury and urge banks to profiteer at the expense of business and agriculture is another thing.

Seven, eight, nine and ten per cent for money certainly "sweetens a loan," as the bankers put it. But discouraging and bankrupting borrowers on whose initiative the nation depends for prosperity, and thus bringing on a panic, will not sweeten anything.

Mr. Paish, eminent British financial authority, says this nation should cancel Europe's debt of ten thousand millions of dollars, and the United States should cancel the debt of ten thousand millions of dollars owed by England. He says that President Wilson intended "to forgive the Entente nations their debts to America." How many other American things did Mr. Wilson plan to give Europe in his generous mood? One thing is sure, whether we forgive Europe her debt or allow her to continue to forget it, the result will be the same. The money will not be paid. It was made up of money that you invested in bonds that have dropped so far in value.

Bidding a fond farewell to the ten thousand millions, the country should at least keep out of the War League or Nations that could call on us, every little while, for ten billions more.

Canadian yarn drops in price from 25 to 23, the biggest drop thus far in any manufactured article. The harder the women worked at their war knitting, the faster the profiteers put up the price. Unfortunately, they have the money put away and will enjoy it. The farmer, who got a fair price at best, will feel the force of the drop in the value of wool. That is how it works.

All young men will talk about the baseball series. Call their attention to the fact that most important work was done for Cleveland by a player that had been "twice sold" as worthless by teams that now have not a player as good.

That athlete that was rejected by the builder becomes the keystone of the arch, even in baseball. If you have equality in your preliminary failure by the condemnation of others won't stop you.

In the fiscal year ending last June, internal taxes alone collected by the United States Treasury amounted to five and a half billion dollars, more than $50 for every man, woman and child in the country. We are paying as we go, and we can do it if we have only our own wars and our own decisions to pay for.

But bear in mind that if this country got tied up in the League of Nations and took on its back what President Wilson calls "an absolutely compelling moral obligation" to fight the rights and pay the bills of other nations, there would not be the demand. Armenia wants to fight Turkey. How many times five million dollars do you think our people would pay in taxes if, through an Armenian mandate, we undertook a brief war on Turkey, a permanent war on Russia, and assumed in other directions a half dozen similar responsibilities?

STATE FAIR WILL BE EDUCATIONAL AND STATE-WIDE

(The Associated Press.)

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 16.—Essentially a state fair is an educational institution, and this fact will be fully demonstrated at the annual exposition, which will be staged in Jacksonville November 18 to 27.

The fair association stresses the fact that the exposition will display all kinds of educational features, and of these none will be more interesting and instructive than those arranged for the farmer. In other words, the latest inventions in all kinds of power farm machinery, designed to lessen the drudgery of farm work, as well as to solve the labor problem, will be on display.

A plot of ground has been prepared where these farm implements will be actually demonstrated. Other exhibits of an educational nature and which undoubtedly will be of great interest to the farmers, as well as to others, reside in rural communities. They will be new inventions calculated to increase the comfort, convenience and satisfactoriness of country life. These include exhibits of new lighting and power devices, which have recently been placed on the market.

One of the most interesting of these will be the new farm lighting plant built by the Willys company in Toledo. This is the latest thing in lights and is destined to attract unusual interest at the fair here.

Women Should Register for City Elections on City Registration Books Also

It is not generally understood by the women in Daytona, and attention should be called to the fact that registration on the books of the city is necessary before one can vote in elections held by the city, whether for city officials or other municipal purposes.

The fact that new voters have registered on the books as electors in state elections has been considered by them all that was required to grant them the franchise complete and as fully entitled to vote at any and all elections.

The registration books in the city of Daytona are open daily between the hours of 11:00 a. m. and 12:00 m., at the city hall, and persons, having the other qualifications of an elector, may register on any week day until ten days prior to any city election, at which time the books are closed until after the election has been held.

The women of Daytona are just as much interested in our municipal affairs, and it will be a sad disappointment to them to go to the polls on the date of the next municipal election and find that they cannot cast their ballots because of their failure to give the matter of registering in the city the necessary attention NOW.

Don't put off doing what is your duty to yourself and the community; do it Monday.

Between 50 and 60 invited guests of the Epworth league of the Methodist Episcopal church sat down to a delightful banquet at the league hall on Friday evening. The banquet was a six course affair, nicely served by a committee of the church. The management of the banquet was the efficient management of Mrs. A. Abel.

After the banquet, a somewhat unique program was carried out with the pastor at the head of the program. The program was an explanatory, inspirational, confidential, organizing, social and approving. Mary Berta Reynolds presided most efficiently at the piano, rendering a solo, and accompanying the singers. Alice Stevens and Thelma Bingham, a duet song, especially written for the occasion, was enthusiastically sung to a well known tune. The results in actual enrollment of members, pledges to receive, were very gratifying, and the spirit of this Epworth league is apparently in its infancy.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 16.—Swimming back into Ohio today from Detroit, Governor Cox spoke at Fremont and Elyria this morning and made a number of platform speeches. He will address two great meetings at Cleveland this afternoon and tonight, spending Sunday here.

At midnight Sunday Governor Cox will leave for Buffalo and Rochester. Before a non-partisan organ union of women at a local hotel today, Cox declared now that suffrage has been given to women, America will begin its mission as the champion of humanity. He reviewed legislation obtained for the benefit of women in Ohio, stating that it had been his privilege and pleasure to lead in support to the passage of 56 laws for the betterment of life and labor. "From my experience in Ohio you know what to expect if I am elected president," he declared. "We must stamp out disease, oppression and ignorance and eliminate poverty. I am in hearty accord with the idea of a house-cleaning for our government departments, sorting out the human from the technical problems."

Suggests Women Frame Legislation

(The Associated Press.)

CLEVELAND, Oct. 16.—Governor Cox in addressing an audience of women here today advocated a National Women's congress to frame a program of social legislation for presentation to the president and to Congress. In the last Congress, he said, a baby bill providing for maternity and infant care awaited in vain while reactionary leaders spent the time scrapping the League. He said he favored the League, not only to save children from war but to turn the national resources from battleship and armaments into school houses and health work.

AUSTRIAN CAPTAIN SHOT AND KILLED SISTER BY REQUEST

(The Associated Press.)

CONSTANCE, Switzerland, Oct. 16.—Johann Struenger, formerly a captain in the Austrian army, has been arrested in a charge of murder for shooting and killing his sister at her own request. The sister suffered a fracture of her spine in an Alpine accident last year, knew her illness to be incurable and had repeatedly begged the physicians of a sanatorium of which she was a patient to relieve her of her sufferings by an overdose of morphine.

Struenger delivered an ultimatum to the physicians that if they failed to comply with his sister's wishes within five days, he would shoot her himself. This he did with the full consent of the girl.

More than half of the employees of the Waltham watch factory are women, their small and agile hands being especially adapted to the delicate work required.

(The Associated Press.)

L. R. Reynolds, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., announces that there will be a Dutch supper served at Luther's restaurant this evening, after eight o'clock, for the boys who attended the County Y. M. C. A. camp at Lake Winona recently. A business and organization meeting will be held after supper has been served. A very pleasant evening is anticipated.

THOUGHT CASTOR OIL WAS HOME BREW—UGH!

(International News Service.)

COLLETT, N. H., Oct. 16.—Mrs. James White lay across a log at her home here, a curious substance trickling down her face. Thinking she had taken poison, the woman's husband rushed to a drug store and summoned an ambulance.

Surgeons at St. Francis's hospital found she had taken castor oil—three only a half-pint of castor oil, mistaken for the dark for a bottle of home brew.

OPINION OF THOMSON & McKINNON: "If we omit from consideration for the moment conditions in Europe, our main problem here at present is the state of trade and commercial agencies again call attention to an important decline affecting manufacturer, jobber and retailer.

And the conditions today are almost similar to that which prevailed following the outbreak of the war and following the signing of the armistice. Basic conditions sound but a want of confidence. When you look over the field and see the vast amount of construction needed, roads, telephone, telegraph, homes, business buildings, country roads, it will not require any considerable stretch of imagination to see vast activity ahead of us. Only a spark is needed to start it going, and I am inclined to think that the great industrial machine will again be set in motion after the presidential election."

the 1970s. The new American literature was a response to the social and political changes of the time. It was a literature that was concerned with the individual, with the human condition, and with the social and political issues of the day. It was a literature that was written in a style that was accessible to a wide audience, and it was a literature that was written in a style that was innovative and experimental. It was a literature that was written in a style that was both serious and playful, and it was a literature that was written in a style that was both traditional and modern. It was a literature that was written in a style that was both American and international, and it was a literature that was written in a style that was both past and future.

The situation, although far from ideal, has been improved by the fact that the Government has decided to take steps to improve the situation in the future. ROLLO FRANCIS POWERS Owner and director of the famous band which bears his name.

Great Triple Cities music festival Rollo Francis Powers and his Powers Orchestral Band of New York, composed of fifty players, ten trumpets, six saxophones, six grand pianos, assisted by a large local chorus of adults and children, will be opening attraction of the triple cities music festival (1923-24) at the dormitory, Daytona Beach, week of November 11th.

A rare musical treat is in store for the home people and winter visitors of the triple cities and vicinity the appearance of this great band of artists. Although the fame of an incomparable aggregation of 56 of the greatest artists that the world produces extends from New York California, it has never been heard the Triple Cities and it is only through the kindness of the Auditor-General that the people of Triple Cities are given the opportunity of hearing what is naturally recognized as the greatest musical organization of its kind in a country.

At all cities where the band has performed, press and public have united in declaring it in standing in a class by itself, approached in artistic by no other organization in the world. The band composed of 56 genious artists, such as Sousa, James Newman and others of wide world fame, and in the company he has several solo players who, without a doubt, are the greatest artists living anywhere and whose like cannot be found in any other country. The grand opera singers, six in number are from the Metropolitan Opera of New York and the Chicago Grand Opera company, and are artists of the highest type.
Those who have heard the Powers band of commerce and pleasure can imagine what great things can be accomplished with wind instruments in the hands of real artists.
An inherent sense of the beautiful and the knowledge of how to produce results in time with such sense. The Powers Orchestral Band is no brass band as such things are generally understood, but a beautiful harmonious group of men whose chief in life is to make beautiful music that shall delight the soul and never offend the ear. The reason that this band is called an orchestral band is that it also uses stringed instruments which enables all programs to be performed with a remarkable and thrilling effect, as to arouse the audience to the point of frenzy, sweeping the people to their feet in a perfect whirlwind of enthusiasm.

This band has been compared by musical critics to the Symphony Orchestra and to the church organ and would appear on the whole to unite all the good qualities of band, orchestra and organ. To fully understand the great gulf that exists between the music of the Powers Orchestral Band and others, it is necessary to hear this wonderful company of players and soloists. At every city that the band plays an engagement, thousands listen to the concerts each day during the engagement, of which business men speak as the greatest season in the history of their city.

Rollo Powers, the able musician who directs his own band, is no gallery, who in order to attract attention cultivates long, tangled locks and a distasteful expression of countenance, but an able conductor who knows just what he wants and goes after it in a whole-souled convincing manner that wins him lots of the kind of friends whose esteem and admiration is worth having and holding.

The programs arranged for this festival consist of a judicious exmingling of popular and classical music and are made up so as to suit any sort of musical taste. Each day will have great features, and the Choral club will appear in some great numbers and no doubt will be unusually attractive and no one at all interested

Several new houses are either under construction or in contemplation at Seabreeze and from present indications that town will this fall witness the greatest building activity in its history.

Roscoe Beech, of Clarks Lake, Mich., will commence next Monday the erection of a two-story home of the Dutch colonial type of architecture on two lots which he recently bought at the corner of Grandview and Oakridge avenues. The home will be one of the most commodious in the locality. James Mastretta will have charge of the construction.

D. A. Weston, teller of the East Coast State bank, has bought a lot just south of the Beech place and plans to erect a bungalow to cost in the neighborhood of $7,000.

Mr. Swanson has bought a lot on Ora street, just off Grandview avenue, and will build a $7,000 bungalow.
C. L. Vining plans to build two or three bungalows on Grandview avenue and Oakridge boulevard.

Edwin Swanson has plans completed and expects shortly to commence the construction of a home on Ora street.
Harry C. Beebe has bought a large lot on Grandview avenue and will build a two-story home to cost about $8,000.

Albert Dism, of Cincinnati, is building two bungalows on North Peninsula drive, just north of Ocala boulevard, each to cost about $6,000.

Many other cottages and bungalows are in contemplation in this same neighborhood.

BUILD A HOME

In Schulte Park

The Most Delightful Subdivision on the East Coast of Florida

Hundreds of residents in this vicinity are turning their thoughts to the happiness, contentment and peace of mind which owning one's home affords, as contrasted with the discomforts and unhappiness that usually follows the renting of homes or apartments and the continual moving which such a method of living entails.

In building your own home you not only have selected the safest and most sensible method of saving, but you are doing your duty toward your family and insuring a happy future for yourself.

The greatest happiness which you can derive from building and owning your own home will be the erection of that home in this subdivision, south of Daytona Beach, where scores of lots have been sold the past several months and where dozens of homes will be erected this winter, where your next door neighbor will be most congenial and where you will receive all the pleasures of the delightful Halifax river and Atlantic ocean, as Schulte Park stretches from one to the other, connecting the two most beautiful bodies of water, with wide, sweeping boulevards, and parkways which add materially to the beauty the location affords naturally.

With the winter season approaching, prices of lots in Schulte Park must necessarily increase, therefore we ask you to get in touch with us at the earliest possible moment.
